

Code of Conduct

As a participant at Festinord you will need to follow some standards of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints during the week.

Below is a list of standards that we will require you to follow during the week.

- Keeping the Word of Wisdom
- Abiding by the Law of Chastity
- Dressing modestly and appropriately
- Using clean language
- Following church norms regarding proper behavior and dancing
- Showing great sportsmanship
- Following leaders and directions given at the venue
- Showing respect & kindness for venue providers, staff, organizers, and other participants

To register you must agree to follow these standards during the week. If you break these rules we have the right to exclude you from the event without reimbursement.

By signing up there will be no reimbursement of the fee. You are free to sell your ticket.

Bring this form to your bishop and he will conduct an interview to make sure you understand and agree to follow these rules. After the interview, you and your bishop will sign this form and you need to bring this form to the registration at Festinord. YOU are personally responsible for your own items you will bring to Festinord.
